

South American Archaeology Seminar

Escrito por Bill Sillar

Miércoles, 21 de Septiembre de 2011 07:16 -

Dear All,

The next South American Archaeology Seminar (at the Institute of Archaeology, University College London) will be on Saturday 10th December. There are still several slots free for talks, and I would greatly appreciate any offers of papers (most presentations are for 25-30 minutes followed by about 10 minutes for discussion).

Please send a title for the paper you are offering to: b.sillar@ucl.ac.uk. The Seminar is open to anyone interested in South American Archaeology, and I hope to send out a programme in early November.

Best wishes